San Francisco, CA 94105

Shelley K. Tinkoff is Of Counsel in Selman Breitman's San Francisco office and is a member of the firm's Toxic Tort/Environmental practice group. Shelley represents manufacturers, distributors, and contractors in complex personal injury, products liability, and premises liability cases. Shelley's clients include flooring manufacturers, friction products manufacturers, and construction companies. She also has experience in representing construction companies in disputes that involve multi-party construction defect litigation.

Shelley's extensive experience in Toxic Tort/Environmental allows her to handle all aspects of complex cases, from initial evaluation, discovery, and trial. She has written and argued numerous discovery, law and motion, and trial motions in both Northern and Southern California. She works closely with clients, general counsel, and insurers to ensure that each case is litigated and tried in a manner most beneficial to the clients' interests.

Originally from Springfield, Oregon, Shelley presently resides in San Francisco with her husband, dogs, and turtle. When not helping clients with their legal needs she spends her time traveling, making costumes, and baking.
