Lisa Lampkin is a Partner in Selman Breitman's Los Angeles office, and a member of the firm's Insurance practice group. Her insurance practice frequently involves claims made under commercial general liability, professional liability, aviation, employers liability, excess and umbrella liability policies.

Her practice involves counseling clients regarding their coverage obligations and rights against others, litigating insurance actions, and advising clients on program-wide issues such as claims handling, litigation management, and underwriting. She also represents insurance clients in the prosecution and defense of actions involving declaratory relief, equitable contribution, subrogation, rescission, reimbursement, unjust enrichment, indemnity, bad faith, breach of contract, negligence, fraud, misrepresentation, unfair competition, and professional liability.

Lisa has participated in a rigorous secondment program in both the United States and London insurance markets. During her secondment, she worked directly with a client's in-house legal team to provide daily guidance on a wide-range of claims and underwriting issues involving specialty insurance risks in the global market.

Lisa's vast experience allows her to evaluate complex claims and assess the benefits and risks of litigation. She works closely with her clients to find practical solutions that will enable her clients to resolve disputes and achieve their goals in a cost-effective manner.

Particularly adept at helping her clients manage their monetary exposure and reputational risk in large catastrophic claims, Lisa has experience representing clients throughout the country in disputes that involve complex legal issues, multiple parties, and significant monetary exposure. She has represented clients in numerous jurisdictions across the United States.
